

■ V.R. ADKOLI

Dear Kirpal, we are living in SMS age. So I am sending your dismissal letter via SMS. Kindly accept the same...

I started off as a supplier, then I became IT professional. Now due to recession in the software sector, I have again become a supplier—albeit of a different kind!

We have already developed software for microchips, micro robots, etc. To fight recession, we are now planning to develop software for micro economy