

Transcend's MP330 digital music player

Transcend Information, Inc., has released its new MP330 digital music player. With a simple design, compact size and superb sound quality, the feature-rich MP330 is a definite must-have for users with expressive personal tastes and active lifestyles.

Transcend's MP330 has an in-built USB connector, which makes it a portable storage device, allowing users to transfer files without the hassle of carrying around bulky cables. Available in three capacities (8GB, 4GB and 2GB) and in two colours (black and white), the player supports file formats such as Free Lossless Audio Codec (FLAC), MP3, WMA, WAV and even WMA-DRM10 protected music files.

Besides featuring a signal-to-noise ratio of over 90 dB, MP330 provides seven advanced equaliser effects to choose from. A special user-customisable option allows music playback to be tailored to match user's specific music taste.

The compact (83mmx25.5mmx11.5mm) and lightweight (25gm) music player is equipped with a removable sport clip that gives users more flexibility to match their listening habits. The player also features an extra bright easy-to-read

Price:
2GB—Rs 2550
4GB—Rs 4000
8GB—Rs 4800
Warranty: 2-year
its distributor

OLED display.

MP330's line-in feature can be used to record music from an external source like a CD player. MP330 also includes an FM radio and sing-along synchronised lyrics display which supports 14 different languages.

Sony Vaio W series

Weighing only 1.7 kg, Sony Vaio W series notebook comes with a 25.65cm LED-backlit display with 1366 x 768 resolution. Having a wide screen, it lets you view an entire web page in one go, which is a better feature compared to the Sony pocket PC. The built-in Wi-Fi lets you get connected to your home network or hotspot areas. The laptop also comes with an in-built camera and microphone. It offers you 160 GB of hard disc space.

The new Sony VIAO W series also comes with certain efficient software. If you are into video or audio editing, then you can use VAIO Multimedia Suite that comes with this series. This software lets you create your own high-quality movies, slide-shows and more. Besides, it also has the Media Plus software with which you can stream photos, videos and music to enjoy it all through your PlayStation3 or a compatible TV. Moreover, the laptop comes with the Microsoft Windows XP Home Edition operating system.

Price:
Rs 29,990

Warranty: 1 year
limited warranty

Availability in India: Through Sony distributors

Lenovo C300

Lenovo's new all-in-one computer has an attractive exterior and a large 50.8cm wide screen. It has been thoughtfully designed by Lenovo, as the speakers are perfectly hidden under the panel and the DVD drive is placed at the right edge of the computer. C300's large 50.8cm screen is suitable for watching movies. However, when it comes to the speaker, you may be a little disappointed. The speakers just do not suffice the large screen. You will need to add more speakers in order to enjoy movies or songs.

It has an Intel Atom processor, C300 – 1.60GHz 533MHz 1MB. It comes preloaded with Windows Vista Home Basic. The system has 2GB RAM, 320GB hard disk, 1.3MP webcam. When you talk about the peripherals, it comes with six USB ports, Wi-Fi and LAN. Overall, this model of Lenovo has an attractive design, but when it comes to performance, its flaws become obvious.

Price:
Rs 32,380

Warranty: 1 year
Availability in India: Retail outlets of Lenovo

