

The kitchen appliances segment is vital in India as it is recession-proof," said Mahesh Krishnan, head-consumer lifestyle, Philips Electronics India.

Philips had formed the consumer lifestyle division by merging its domestic appliances and consumer electronics business last year. The company plans to gain presence in tier II and tier III markets with its new value portfolio.

Videocon aims at 35-40% growth

Videocon Industries is eyeing a growth of 35-40 per cent in terms of value for the fiscal 2009-10. It plans to achieve the desired growth by introducing new product lines, various offers and revamping its service centres across 20 cities.

"The focus for Videocon Group is rural markets and major growth is going to come from these markets, which are growing at over 22 per cent," said Jaideep Rathore, chief marketing officer, Videocon Group.

Applications invited for graphical system design achievement awards

National Instruments India is conducting Graphical System Design Achievement Awards to celebrate innovative science and engineering applications. Graphical system design is a revolutionary approach for test, control and embedded design by providing a unified platform for designing, prototyping and deploying applications.

Anyone who has developed an industry solution using NI software or hardware, can participate by sharing his success story with NI at '2009gsdwards@ni.com.' The last date for receiving applications is June 30, 2009.
