

components, that is, the configuration of the embedded-processor system, and includes the bus architecture, peripherals, processor, system connec-

