

Wireless Gaming Headset

Creative's Sound Blaster Tactic3D Wrath has integrated volume and mute controls

Creative Technology has launched the Sound Blaster Tactic3D Wrath wireless headset for professional gaming.

The headset comes equipped with powerful 50mm FullSpectrum neodymium magnet speakers and a removable noise-cancelling condenser microphone. Additionally, it features integrated volume and mute controls, and illuminated ear cups.

The headset transmits/receives uncompressed 2.4GHz wireless audio to/from PC or Mac, doing away with lag and static. Its Li-ion rechargeable battery can play audio for up to eight hours with a single charge, and can be recharged while the headset is in use. With its steel core, the headset can withstand wear and tear.
