

RS Comprehensive Engineers Tool Kit

This kit comes in a huge, hard briefcase. I don't know why then they have listed it in the small tool kits section. It contains over a hundred pieces, so I have included only the important ones in the table. If you want to know the whole lot, visit the RS website where you can find a dedicated datasheet that lists out all the tools featured in this kit. Looking at the list, you will realise that this kit will make sure that you never have to leave your workplace to get that odd tool. The weight of the kit is not mentioned on the website, but by checking out the weights of similar kits in other countries I have arrived at an estimate of 9-11 kilograms.

Sciencetech Optical Fibre Connectorisation and Splice Tool Kit for Training

For an optical joint to be perfect, the glass surfaces of both fibres should match exactly. Any mismatch or gap between the surfaces increases optical losses during transmission. Fibre preparation, fibre insertion into the connector, epoxy application, fibre cutting and surface polishing are very important aspects of the process. This Sciencetech kit contains all the necessary tools, consumables, connectors and cables to execute the process. The kit forms an important part of the Fibre Optic Laboratory where students learn to join optical fibres.
