Hundreds of thousands of individuals at thousands of companies worldwide have earned IPC certification.

Now IPC-India is bringing the world's most popular
Train the Trainer Programs to Bangalore for
OEMs, EMS, and other electrical and electronic industries

Smart decisions and top-notch quality are critical to success— particularly in the highly competitive, ever-changing electronic interconnection industry. Training alone may help with your quality initiatives, but when key employees actually have an industry-recognized certification on industry standards, you can leverage that additional credibility as you pursue new customers and contracts.
