Rocks 2013
Academia Edition

February 23, 2013
Pragati Maidan,
New Delhi

Update your skills and knowledge.
After all, an academician has all the answers—always.

Interact and get involved in discussions that will shape the future of India's electronics professionals and entrepreneurs community. And once you are inspired, excited and challenged—you change the way your students look at it too!

Hottest topics being discussed:

- Latest developments you can't afford to miss
- How to really get students deeply involved in electronics
- Build a state-of-the-art engineering lab in your institution
- How to team-up students, faculty and industry to build commercially successful projects and lots more!
