

of electronics and IT products. So it was not entitled to issue globally recognised certificates, but could issue national certificates.

According to the release, the 'authorising nation' status will ensure that international companies submit their products for testing and certification in India. The other countries that enjoy this status include the US, the UK, Germany, South Korea, France, Japan, Canada, Australia, Turkey and Malaysia.

Worldwide shipments of 3D printers to grow 49 per cent in 2013

Worldwide shipments of 3D printers (3DPs) will grow 49 per cent in 2013 to reach a total of 56,507 units, according to Gartner, Inc.'s first forecast of the less than $100,000 consumer and enterprise 3D printer market.

Rapid quality and performance innovations across all 3DP technologies will drive enterprise and consumer demand. Gartner said that shipments will increase further in 2014, growing 75 per cent to 98,065 units, followed by a near doubling of unit shipments in 2015.

In 2013, combined end-user spending on 3DPs will reach $412 million, up 43 per cent from $288 million in 2012. Enterprise spending will total more than $325 million in 2013, while the consumer segment will reach nearly $87 million. In 2014, spending will increase 62 per cent, reaching $669 million, with enterprise spending of $536 million and consumer spending of $133 million.
