

MAHANAGAR TELEPHONE NIGAM LTD

Rs 34,287 mn (2012-13)

In the past 26 years, MTNL has taken rapid strides to emerge as one of India's and Asia's largest telecom operators. The company has also been in the forefront of technology induction by converting 100 per cent of its telephone exchange network into state-of-the-art digital mode. MTNL operates only in Delhi and Mumbai, and on an international front, in Nepal and Mauritius.

In September 2013, MTNL joined hands with another state-run telecom operator, Bharat Sanchar Nigam Ltd (BSNL), to use each other's infrastructure, including buildings, mobile masts and international long-distance phone networks, in order to provide pan-India services to their customers.
