UP gives VAT exemption for LED bulbs

Uttar Pradesh government has instructed the concerned departments to roll out VAT exemption on LED bulbs across the state in a bid to minimise power consumption.

The state government is also distributing LED bulbs free of cost, through special camps, to people across the state. Uttar Pradesh has been promoting the use of LED bulbs and solar energy in order to reduce pressure on conventional power sources. The state faces acute power supply shortage every summer, and purchases power from power-surplus states, taxing the limited financial resources of the state.

LED street-lighting made mandatory in Delhi

Delhi power minister Satyendra Jain has announced that LED street-lighting has been made mandatory in the city, and this is being implemented. He said that tax reduction is not the solution for bringing down prices of LED bulbs.

"Customers will move towards higher LED adoption through incentives, and manufacturers should try and bring in economies of scale in production. The government is already creating a market for it and will implement stringent quality standards to boost adoption. The main purpose is to ensure a reduction in energy wastage," he added.

Emphasising the issue of sustainability and energy consumption, Jain said that, around 60GW of electricity is being used in the capital for lighting alone, and pushed for efforts to reduce it by half.

Government approves electronics cluster in Raipur

The government has approved the fifth greenfield electronics manufacturing cluster (EMC), to be set up in Raipur at an investment of ₹ 890 million, for making mobile phones, solar LEDs and consumer electronics products.

The government plans to set up 200
