Ltd, has partnered with Consortium of Electronic Industries of Karnataka (CEIK), to boost the electronic system design and manufacturing (ESDM) sector in the state.

CeBIT, to be held from October 29 to 31, 2015, at Bangalore International Exhibition Centre (BIEC), Bengaluru, will provide a global platform for MSMEs to showcase their innovations at the CEIK pavilion.

This collaboration would further promote growth in the ESDM sector and provide newer forays for collaboration between member MSMEs, government and service providers, as well as encourage global investment in the state.

Government announces EDF of ₹ 100 billion

The government has said that the electronics development fund (EDF) will become operational from September onwards to support venture capitalists to fund electronic manufacturing in general and LEDs in particular.

Ajay Kumar, additional secretary, Ministry of Communications and Information Technology, has said that the fund would be totally market driven, depending upon the involvement of venture capitalists.

NASSCOM partners with HARTRON

National Association of Software and Services Companies (NASSCOM) has partnered with Haryana State Electronic Development Corp. Ltd (HARTRON). The collaboration is aimed at establishing a start-up warehouse in Gurgaon. NASSCOM has signed an MoU with HARTRON to take this alliance further.

The partnership is another important step taken by NASSCOM for its 10,000 start-ups initiative. The first start-up warehouse in Haryana is expected to be functional within the next three months, accommodating close to 85 workstations initially and the occupancy will be expanded in a phased manner.
