

Your Time-Attendance and Access Control needs are as unique as your fingerprint.

Time-Attendance and Access Control solutions vary greatly from one organization to another. They are extremely human-oriented, and complex projects.

No two organizations have identical attendance policies. Different facilities like corporate office, factory and branch offices differ in working hours, leave management, access policies, etc. Various departments like marketing and finance vary in their work habits. Further, people working at different levels in the same department need different time-attendance and access control flexibility. It is almost impossible to expect a Time-Attendance and Access Control to meet so diverse needs of your organization.

Presenting Matrix COSEC - an adaptive Time-Attendance and Access Control system designed for modern and ever-evolving organizations. Matrix COSEC is not just another "standard product". It is a flexible, modular, scalable and feature-rich Time-Attendance and Access Control solution that meets exact needs of your organization - today and tomorrow.
