

GizMo ByTes

MTS' IVR service for poll related information

MTS, the mobile telephony services brand of Sistema Shyam TeleServices, has launched an interactive voice response (IVR) and SMS-based service, called Janmat 2010, that provides MTS customers with the latest information relating to Bihar state elections. Janmat 2010 can be availed by dialing '5303030' at a call charge of Rs 3 per minute. It will provide factual and unbiased information specific to an array of verticals. This will include news on nominations, updates about political parties, backgrounds of key contesting candidates of Bihar and their previous election performances.

Tata Sky launches TruChoice channel packages

DTH service provider Tata Sky has launched the TruChoice customer-friendly initiative that gives its customers the option to view channels according to their taste, budget, language or genre preferences. TruChoice clubs channels of the same genre together in one pack and gives subscribers the flexibility to choose the content they want to view and pay for. This means that henceforth subscribers need not surf through unwanted channels to view their favourite show.

Tata Indicom launches Comedy Junction

Tata Indicom, the CDMA brand of Tata Teleservices Limited (TTSL), has launched an interesting value-added service 'Comedy Junction' through its voice portal, for its prepaid and postpaid subscribers across India. This service allows Tata Indicom users to listen to renowned stand-up comedians like Raju Srivastava, Ehsaan Qureshi, Ranvir Shorey, Bhagwat Mann, Suresh Albela and many more by simply dialing the interactive voice portal 12903. It is available at a monthly subscription of ₹ 30 with toll-free browsing of up to 60 minutes.

ALL-IN-ONE ENTERTAINMENT SYSTEM

BOSE VideoWave DELIVERS HOME THEATRE PERFORMANCE WITHOUT REQUIRING SEPARATE SPEAKERS

Bose has introduced the VideoWave entertainment system, combining a home theatre sound system, 116.84cm (46-inch) 1080p LCD and music system into a single product. There are no separate speakers, bass module or speaker wires. A single enclosure delivers high-definition pictures and the audio experience of a high-quality home theatre system. All the connected devices—for watching TV and movies, or listening to music—are controlled by a one-click remote and an interface on the screen.

The entire system is no larger than the screen itself. And it's slender and elegant enough to be wall-mounted or placed on a table.

The VideoWave entertainment system comes with a console that connects to the screen with one cable. It connects up to five high-definition entertainment players. A dock for an iPod or iPhone is also included.

Price: ₹ 478,013 (with white-glove delivery service)

The VideoWave is available with white-glove delivery service that includes system setup and review, connecting entertainment sources and ADAPTiQ audio calibration to optimise the system for the owner's room.

ANDROID TOUCH TABLET

BINATONE BRINGS ANDROID TOUCH TABLET AT HALF THE PRICE OF COMPETING PRODUCTS

Binatone, the UK-based international telecom giant, has entered India with the launch of its touch tablet at a very affordable price. The Home Surf Touch tablet, which is almost as slim as the iPad, runs Android 1.6, has a 20.3cm (8-inch) resistive screen, Wi-Fi, 2GB on-board storage and 128MB RAM and is powered by an ARM 11 667MHz processor. But the killer is its price (Rs 9000), which is claimed to be less than half that charged by other Android tablets available in the market today.

Price: ₹ 9000