

258 exhibitors representing over 700 brands exhibited in EFY Expo 2011 and were extremely satisfied with the amazing response from the visitors

Here's what our exhibitors have to say

"EFY turned out to be a rich and fruitful experience for us. Agilent Technologies, being the key exhibitor for the first time was delighted to see the response and exposure to new potential business opportunities. Thanks to EFY for meticulous planning and professionally organizing the event. We look forward to even greater level of partnership at EFY Expo 2012."

Arun Dogra, country general manager, Agilent Technologies India

"Our decision to participate in the event has worked wonders for us. We plan to exhibit in the next EFY Expo as well with more zeal and enthusiasm as the response this time has been positive"

Sanjeev Sehgal, managing director, Samridhi Automations

"The EFY Expo 2011 was very well attended by many senior people from the industry. The level of interest in our products was very high and we were able to provide an in-depth technical knowledge for the selection of correct conformal coating and how to apply them. HumiSeal also presented a technical presentation on 'Different types of conformal coating' and its uses which was also well received. We were very pleased with show and will be exhibiting again at the 2012 show in Delhi. Thanks to the excellent organisational skills of the EFY team, the event ran without a hitch We will be back!"

David Greenman, European managing director, HumiSeal

"This has really been an extremely satisfying experience for us, as we not only met our objectives but went beyond it! We were interested in meeting people from our industry. We not only met R&D engineers but also met some of the highest expected delegates from the electronics market. We have received positive feedback from our clients and have generated good business. We have already registered for the next event in 2012."

Haresh Abhichandani, managing director, Millennium Semiconductors

Professional and Fruitfull Expo!

"We found that 90% of the visitors are manufacturers (in automation, lighting, meter industry and so on) who were using our competitor's product. Through this exhibition, they found out that Degson is highly competitive. As a manufacturer, we are very happy to get this kind of overwhelming response from this exhibition."

Ding Gaosong, general manager, Degson Electronics
