

and distribution channel in India, it is eyeing its revenues in the country to hit Rs 16 billion by the end of this year. The Taiwan-based IT firm is also looking at growing its market share to five per cent from the current three per cent in India.

"We already have a strong presence in the Indian retail market and going ahead, we will expand our reach here. We would be present across more than 300 stores," said Alex Huang, technology country manager (system business group), Asus.

"We are looking at doubling our revenue this year as we expand our presence in the Indian market. We will focus on expanding our distribution and product portfolio," he added.

LG hikes monitor prices

LG Electronics India (LGEIL) has announced a three to five per cent price hike on its monitors owing to the constant escalation of input costs. The increase in the prices of LCD and LED panels in the international market has forced LG to take this action in the Indian market, according to the company.

The panel prices will continue to increase till September 2011 and impact the overall set prices. The impact of the price hike would be seen in all LG monitors including LCDs, LEDs and monitor TVs starting from 39.6 cm (15.6 inches) to 58.4 cm (23 inches).

Commenting on the price rise, Dr Y.V. Verma, COO, LGEIL, said, "Though we have been absorbing the panel cost which contributes approximately 70 per cent to the finished set cost for the past three months, it will become difficult to avoid this change in the market prices."
