BSNL investing Rs 10 billion in landline business

Bharat Sanchar Nigam Ltd (BSNL) plans to invest Rs 8-10 billion to revive its landline business in order to increase the broadband subscriber base.

The company will implement a call data record system to enable automated billing, fault identification and monitoring of its entire wireline business.

"After the mobile revolution, growth in landline phones had stagnated. We are now bringing our landline business back in focus to improve our broadband penetration," a BSNL official said.

Lenovo to go aggressive in tablets

Lenovo, as part of its global strategy, will introduce tablets of varying sizes and platforms in India in an effort to build a range catering to individual needs of the customers.

"Tablets are extremely personal technology devices used primarily for data consumption. Lenovo's tablet strategy is to create a family of tablets suited to various entertainment and mobility requirements. So whether it's the IdeaPad for entertainment or the ThinkPad for business, we have listened to our customers and are delivering Android tablets designed to meet their particular needs," said Amar Babu, managing director, Lenovo India.

Huawei's enterprise business solutions to clock $15 billion revenue by 2015

Huawei has launched an enterprise business unit to provide business solutions in India. The launch also witnessed the unveiling of HD telepresence business system.

The enterprise business would be a major thrust for Huawei and is expected to clock $15-billion revenue by 2015. Owing to the potential of the enterprise business in India, Huawei will also strengthen its staff by 400 by the end of 2012.
